MEET YOUR ACCOUNT MANAGER OMAR MAGANA

For over fifteen years, Omar has been invested in the management and care of commercial landscapes. Beginning as a gardener and crew leader, his leadership and dedication paved a path to landscape specialist, production manager, irrigation manager and now account manager. Through these roles, Omar has developed a great deal of knowledge and expertise which enables him to provide a broad level of service and leadership in our San Diego branch. He is a natural leader and excellent communicator with a clear passion for customer service. Omar's favorite part about the work he does is being able to be outdoors. When he is not working, he spends his time riding his dirt bike, walking his dogs, and watching movies with his family.
